Bossard receives Komptech's 2014 Supplier Award

Zug, June 23, 2015 – The composting, screening and shredding machines for household and commercial waste made by the Austrian company KompTech GmbH are in use in more than 50 countries worldwide. Of a total of 135 suppliers, Bossard was recently recognized as KompTech's 2014 Supplier of the Year.

This is the third time that Komptech GmbH, headquartered in Frohnleiten, Styria, has presented its Supplier Award to honor suppliers for outstanding performance. Komptech's assessment is based on criteria such as cost reduction, quality as well as commitment. "Our machines are used around the world. This requires not only high-quality materials but also security of supply. It's what we call Supplier Excellency," says Komptech CEO Christian Oberwinkler, explaining his company's decision to recognize Bossard. Bossard's Austrian subsidiary is located in Schwechat near Vienna.
